

Habitat Store, Lee Builders team up to offer building materials for sale

By Bob Stockton

The Habitat for Humanity Store has received a generous donation of construction materials from Lee Builders and is selling them at bargain prices.

"Carrie Phillips of Lee Builders made a telephone call to Habitat President Roberta McKee to initiate the donation," said the Habitat Store's Chris Hogarth. The Habitat volunteers and truck, donated to the charity by Rocking R, picked up the materials from Lee this past Monday.

The construction materials include ceramic tile, foundation vents, unfinished hardwood flooring, carpeting, pine shelving, 16-penny nails and more. All the materials are brand new. They were ordered from vendors, but were not the correct dimensions or color.

The Habitat Store is open from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. Tuesdays, Wednesdays and Thursdays, and from 10 a.m. to 1 p.m. on Saturdays.

"We have a truck and volunteers available to pick up donations of all household and building or construction materials," said Hogarth. To arrange for pick-up of large loads, please call 391-4293.

Floyd Marlow (left) of Lee Builders helps Habitat for Humanity Store volunteers (l-r) Dennis Bumber, Stu Whipple and Doug Hogarth load construction materials onto the Habitat truck. Tony Abar and Joe Belanger also helped the Habitat Store arrange for the construction materials donation from Lee Builders.

-StocktonPhoto